MEDICINAL.

AMERICAN PREPARATIONS
FOR BLOOD AND SKIN!
A. B. C. Chemical Co.,
Richmond, Va.
Having for a long time suffered from the effects of a horrible blood trouble, and after resorting to medical skill and other remedies without benefit, I tried A. B. C. Chemical Co.'s "Preparations for Blood and Skin." I have been entirely restored, and it affords me pleasure to attest its virtues. It is evidently a very great tonic and alterative, and I recommend it to all suffering from blood trouble, to try it.

A Correction

WINCHESTER, Va., June 5, 1890

To the Editor of the Alexandria Gazette:

My dear sir: In your issue of the 21st instant, your correspondent "H." in his letter from Fauquier, has this item:

"The Rev. J. E. Grammer's friends here are elated that he should have so boldly withstood in the late council at Fredericksburg the heresy of non-eternal punishment as enunciated by Rev. Mr. Dame in his sermon, according to the reports of those who attended the council."

I am sure that neither you nor "H." who seems to have depended on report for his information, would willingly do me or any one else injustice. I did not participate at the Council, or anywhere else, the heresy of non-eternal punishment. I did not preach on punishment, eternal or otherwise. The thesis against which my friend and kinsman, Rev. James Grammer, fired his shot was that "Immortality is God's gift to men in and through Christ's blood." At least that was the heresy I enunciated in my sermon on that occasion.

The question between us is a very simple one. We agree that Jesus is the channel, the source to men of eternal happiness, peace, honor, glory, and all other eternal blessings. But we differ as to whether He is the giver of immortality, everlasting life itself, to men. Does this, the greatest of all gifts, the sine qua non of all other eternal blessings, come to us through the first Adam or through the second? Is immortality, everlasting life itself, ours inherently, or is it God's gift to us through Jesus Christ our Lord? "This is the record: that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in His Son. He that hath the Son hath life, and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life."

It is true that the doctrine of "life in Christ only" does touch incidentally the matter of future punishment. But it does not conflict with the eternity of punishment. There is no room to question that the wicked shall stand in the judgment, that they shall be punished, shall suffer the few stripes or the many which they have deserved (no more and no less), that they shall "die," "perish," "be destroyed," "be consumed," by the "word" and the "fire," and that their destruction shall be eternal, utter and forever.

But if immortality is the gift of God in Christ only, then the wicked are not immortal. The day will come, however long it may be in coming, when the "fire" and the "word" will have completed their task of consuming out of God's kingdom all that can defile or offend. The "fire" and the "word," the punishing agencies, are eternal, but that on which they feed is not. The law is imperishable, but the sinner shall be eventually destroyed. If he pleases any one so to think, he is at liberty to believe that God, our God, whose name is Love, will hold a sinner in life eternally for the pleasure of torturing him forever. For my part, I prefer to hold with St. Paul that the wicked "shall be punished with everlasting (not torture but) destruction from the presence of the Lord and from the glory of His power." Yours very respectfully,
NELSON P. DAME.

The Revolution in Type-Setting.

The ingenuity of the inventor has been taxed for more than a quarter of a century to produce an automatic type-setter. Many have been invented and tried, but all have failed to equal the accuracy of handwork until within the last few months. Now, the automatic type-setter is here, and it is here to stay. It has reached a degree of practical utility, alike in speed, economy and accuracy, that assures its prompt introduction into all the leading journals of the country. Indeed, it is safe to say that the year 1890 will witness the general use of the automatic type-setter in all the daily newspapers of this city, and, of course, in most of the dailies of the country.

The type-setting machine will work a complete revolution in the printing trade. It will draw a distinct line, and divide what is now the printing trade into two separate mechanical pursuits as entirely independent as are now printers and pressmen. There will always be printers; but, as a rule, they will cease to be type-setters beyond displayed matter, rule-and-figure work, etc., and there will be another distinct mechanical calling for compositors. In the printing trade there will be the always inevitable law of the survival of the fittest. All who have attained skill in the art of printing in the artistic use of type, and in general mechanical efficiency—will be wanted and command quite as high wages as they are now paid; and all who are fitted for compositors—that is, for the new and severe requirements of the new calling—will speedily adapt themselves to the automatic type-setter and become operators.

The mechanical calling of compositor, under the new method of type setting, must command a higher standard of qualifications than the present type-setter. He must be perfect in spelling; he must be perfect in punctuation; he must exercise a degree of care that is uncommon in any but the most exacting mechanical pursuits, and he must be well advanced in general intelligence. As accuracy in automatic type-setting is the first necessity, because of the difficulty in correcting errors in proof, and as most of the copy in daily newspaper offices is hurriedly prepared manuscript, a high measure of intelligence and perfection in orthography and punctuation, with the closest application to the work, will be indispensable qualities to the future compositor.

Of course, practical printers will be preferred as future compositors, but they can command the operating of the machines only—first, by thoroughly fitting themselves for the new and exacting requirements, and second, by making reasonable rates. Skillful automatic compositors will very justly command increased wages; but it must not be forgotten that only thoroughly competent persons can become compositors at all. This important revolution in mechanism is here. It is here to command prompt acceptance, and it will drop out of the race all printers who are not master artists in their calling.—Philadelphia Times.

MEDICINAL

Take
Simmons
Liver
Regulator
One Dose
WORTH
100 Dollars

DEAR S. L. R.—FRIENDS: I consider one dose of Simmons' Liver Regulator worth $100. I was constipated, had headache, could eat nothing with satisfaction or appetite; had the blues and felt altogether out of sorts. I resorted to blue mass, calomel, quinine and all remedies suggested, but only obtained temporary relief. One dose of S. L. R. did me more good than the $100 worth of doctors and doctoring. Respectfully,
T. C. MARKLEY.

I have been a teacher for twenty years, and during that time have had repeated attacks of headache, produced by torpid liver, and I have been entirely cured by the use of Simmons' Liver Regulator. I found it to be of so mild a character in its action as not to interfere, in the least, with my duties in the school room. To those similarly situated and subject to same, I cannot too highly recommend Simmons' Liver Regulator.

SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE

IN

FAIRFAX COUNTY.

BY VIRTUE OF A decree rendered at the November term, 1887, of the Circuit Court of Fairfax county in the suit of Powers' admr. vs. Stuart and others, the undersigned, commissionaire therein named, at 12 o'clock on MONDAY, June 9th, 1890 (Circuit Court day), will offer for sale at public auction, in front of the Court House of said county, the well-known and valuable farm called "CHANTILLY," containing about NINE HUNDRED AND FORTY-FOUR ACRES, located near the village of the same name, in said county, on the Little River turnpike, six miles from Herndon station, W. O. & W. B. E., and twenty-one miles from Alexandria city. This land is fertile and productive, being a fine red soil, and most of it is cleared and ready for grazing or cultivation. It is well watered and has sufficient quantity of timber for ordinary uses. There are SEVERAL SMALL HOUSES on the farm and good fencing. Nearby are stores, blacksmith and wheelwright shops, a postoffice, school house and churches. If there is no satisfactory bid for the entire tract, it will be offered in lots of a convenient size, and a plat showing the proposed division can be seen in the Clerk's office of said Court. If no sale is made on the said day the undersigned will consider private offers.

Terms of Sale: One third cash, and the residue in two equal annual payments, evidenced by the interest bearing notes of the purchaser, with personal security, and as additional security the title will be retained until payment in full.
